AT THIS busy, exciting time of graduation, it is our desire to express our deep esteem for, and to extend our sincere best wishes to Joseph Pelechowicz and Fred Steelman, our much-admired classmates, who met their ill-fortune in endeavoring to advance our class and school.

We, the graduating class, feel certain that the strong fighting spirit of these boys, who are noted for their various abilities and good fellowship, will quickly bring them back to graduate from Camden High School.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

ONE of the most important and influential organizations in the school is the Student Government. Under the leadership of Roger Smith, president; Nathaniel Kaplan, first vice-president; Elsie Kraus, second vice-president; Kenneth Stackhouse, secretary; Jean Schumacker, recording secretary; Miss Alice Westcott and Mr. William Dreizler, faculty advisers, the traffic of the school is regulated.

By this student organization, general traffic rules are enforced, the cafeteria is decorated and kept in order, visitors are greeted, a lost and found office is conducted, and student discipline cases are tried.

The leaders' group, which works with this organization, meets weekly and is now working on a method whereby scholarship standards of the school may be raised.

THE RECORD STAFFS

THE RECORD STAFF is divided into three major departments which cooperate in editing our school magazine. The faculty adviser of the literary staff is Miss Margaret Reynolds, and the position of editor-in-chief is held by Kempton G. Smith, who, with the other members of the staff, is making every possible effort to produce an A-1 "Record."

The business staff, with Mr. Harry J. Balls as faculty adviser and Leonard Berman as business manager, not only makes the magazine a success financially, but also offers the members valuable training in business methods of advertising.

The art staff, which is under the guidance of Miss Lyola Pedrick, is responsible for the profuse illustrations that grace every issue of the "Record."

Picture these three departments working cooperatively and what is the result—a magazine that has won national recognition.

THE CAMDEN HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

THE Camden High School Orchestra is the source of much pride to the students of this school. Ably directed by Mr. Robert M. Haley, it has developed, after many hours of ceaseless practice, into a first-class orchestra.

The many students who participate in this branch of activity never fail to receive material benefit from it in the form of a more extensive musical training and experience in orchestral playing.
