

SPORTS AFIELD

WITH DOG AND GUN

Burlington, Nov. 16.—Having read of the luck of gunners who have been scouting the woods and fields in this vicinity, William Lawton of Mercer Street, E. H. Carpenter and G. W. Crompton of South Broad Street, and William Pettit of Lambertson Street, Trenton, came this way Thursday evening. They took home a large bundle of game and are now treating their friends to quail, pheasant, rabbits and woodcock.

The Trenton party went to Indian Mills on the first day of the gunning season in an automobile and expected to return home in the same manner, but the car did not show up so they were obliged to lay over.

Thursday they arrived in this city with a large box of game and were the center of admiration, in all there were four rabbits, four pheasants, four woodcock and three quail.

Harvey Austin, operator at the P. R. R. station, this city, with several of his companions, were at Rancocas Thursday for game, but to their dismay did not even see a rabbit.

For a while it was a question whether or not they should kill their dog in order to show some result of their day's gunning trip.

Hamilton Square, Nov. 16.—Abijah Cottrell and Lewis Cottrell spent Monday gunning with F. F. Grove at Cranbury.

Harvey, Raymond and Spafford Hutchinson, sons of E. C. Hutchinson, with Theodore Carhart, bagged 40 rabbits on the farm of the Stults homestead at Cranbury Neck, Monday.

Special to the Times.

Pennington, Nov. 16.—Wright Bird of Woomersmen together with two friends, filled their bags with twenty rabbits on Wednesday.

Eugene VanDyke succeeded in killing thirteen the first day of the season.

John Blackwell and William Sked hunted one hour and a half and killed seven rabbits.

Fred Cudney killed five rabbits on Monday and his brother William shot four and a woodcock.

Aaron Farr shot six on Tuesday, following a good day's gun on Monday.

Frank Smith and visitor from Lawrenceville succeeded in bagging nineteen on the first day.

Samuel Vannoy in company with Fred Blackwell killed six of the cotton tails on Tuesday.

A. Simpkins, the popular conductor on the Pennington and Hopewell trolley line, returned home Wednesday from a few days' trip at his parents' home near Salem. He reports game very scarce, but had a fine time.

Edgar Woolsey of Hart's Corner secured one cotton tail.

Edward Hunt and Richard Blose of Bear Tavern shot 16. The former got six and the latter ten.

John and Joseph Thompson of Hart's Corner were fortunate enough to secure eight. In addition to this the latter caught a fox in a steel trap.

Princeton, Nov. 16.—William Finnegan, George Grover, Charles Myers, Walter Tash have returned from a hunting trip near Mt. Rose, where they bagged 22 rabbits, 2 gray squirrels, 3 woodcocks and 8 quail.

From a hunt near Somerset County Jacob D. Housel, R. Housel and Oscar Huff brought home 17 rabbits.

Paul Peabody on a trip near Mt. Lucas bagged 7 rabbits and seen a deer. Elias Pryor in the same vicinity bagged 2 rabbits. Ignatz G. Hoff, Jr., from a trip along the Millstone river bagged 2 rabbits.

Windsor, Nov. 16.—Gunnors in this vicinity report that game is scarce this year, rabbits are not nearly as plentiful as usual, and are found mostly in the woods, there being very few out in the open fields as is usually the case this time of the season.

Henry Woodward, Harvey Bunting and Harvey Wright each killed a hare, one being secured the first day and two the second day of the gunning season.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Brown entertained the following guests at a gunning party on Monday: Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Mount, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Amzi Snedeker, Mr. and Mrs. Jones D. Mount, Leon Mount and Harold Mount. The gentlemen spent most of the day hunting and bagged about twenty rabbits.

Special to the Times.

Hightstown, Nov. 16.—Some of the recent gunning trips resulted as follows:

On Wednesday Councilman Forman H. Wright killed nine rabbits.

Frank Stremlo killed ten. Stremlo has a rabbit dog which has attracted considerable attention and is considered to be one of the best in this vicinity.

George W. Ford was out for a few hours, getting five squirrels.

Among the gunners who have had good luck in killing game is Harry Messior of Trenton, who has been gunning in this vicinity.

Mercerville, Nov. 16.—James Anderson, A. Burk and Frank S. Gropp have returned from a hunting trip at Keenport. They succeeded in killing 59 rabbits, 5 hares, 18 squirrels, 9 ducks, one of the three hares weighing 17 pounds.

William Bethke, Lewis Engle, Alvin Anderson and James M. Anderson shot 16 rabbits.

Samuel Robbins killed 4 rabbits and one snipe.

Everett Zeiglar, Lewis Schenck and James M. Anderson spent Tuesday gunning near Dutch Neck. They succeeded in bagging 9 rabbits and one squirrel.

Walter Schenck, A. E. Cudberley, William Nutt, Alvin Anderson, James Anderson spent Wednesday gunning. They shot 5 rabbits and one woodcock.

George Young got 4 rabbits. Others who were successful were: Eddie Burk, 10 rabbits; Harvey Reed, 4 rabbits; George Reed, 11 rabbits; Torman Carson, 7 rabbits; William Worthington, 12 rabbits; John Craig, 9 rabbits; Randal Robbins, 2 rabbits; Jacob R. Hughes, 3 rabbits.

A party consisting of Charles Mather, George Lanning, Stuart Gordon and Southard Mather succeeded in shooting 16 rabbits.

Harry Conover, 3 rabbits; George Mackenthum, 2 rabbits; Thomas Ford, 5 rabbits; Thomas Collins, 4 rabbits; Willie Steimer, 3 rabbits; Johnnie Savage, 2 rabbits; Martin Smith, 15 rabbits; Joseph Reed, 5 rabbits; Charles Cox, 8 rabbits; Peter Chamberlain, 12 rabbits; George Hughes, 9 rabbits; Willie Pollman, 7 rabbits.

Bakersville, Nov. 16.—Harvey Raymond, Spafford Hutchinson, Frank Dey and Theodore Carhart spent a day gunning at Cranbury Neck, N. J. They were fortunate in bagging thirty-seven cotton-tails and a number of woodcocks.

Joseph Brealey, Charles Brealey, Samuel Smith and John Brealey captured twenty-two bunnies.

Eugene Bross spent Monday in the fields and captured five bunnies.

Isaac Johnson shot seven rabbits.

Barkley Schenck, from near Princeton, spent Monday and Tuesday canvassing the woods with dog and gun.

John Carter captured five rabbits Monday.

farm of Charles Harrison, of Chesterfield, Tuesday.

William S. Hankins shot six rabbits and two hares Wednesday.

George Southard shot eight rabbits and three squirrels in the neighborhood of Crosswicks Wednesday.

W. P. Millette, J. D. Millette, Spencer B. Clayton and Herbert Smith spent Monday, Tuesday and part of Wednesday up the Belvidere road, gunning, returning Wednesday evening. The party killed forty-three rabbits, four squirrels and two woodcocks. Smith has an interesting stump and woodcock story to tell. Ask him for it, boys. Clayton made a record. He kills them even though he is tangled up and bent double in a wire fence. J. D. and W. P. Millette need guns that will spread shot over a two-acre lot. Anyons having two such guns will find customers by applying.

William Keller, of Logan Avenue, and George W. Carty, of Titus Avenue, have returned from a gunning trip around New Egypt, bagging nine rabbits, six quails, five grey squirrels, one English pheasant and one Jersey pheasant.

Harry R. Carty, of Titus Avenue, gunned near Lawrenceville on Monday, bagging three rabbits and four grey squirrels.

John W. Schlegel, a butcher in the Washington Market, and William Van Horn, of Allentown, spent Monday at that place gunning. They succeeded in bagging twelve rabbits, all but one of which were big ones, and Mr. Schlegel shot a large opossum. They report rabbits to be very numerous in that vicinity and anticipate more sport before the season closes.

Philip Slack, Clarence Slack and T. F. Hoffman, of Market street, returned yesterday afternoon after a successful gunning trip of two days in the Sourland Mountains. Altogether the sportsmen bagged twenty-two rabbits, two woodcocks and fourteen grey squirrels.

Hamilton Square, Nov. 16.—The following sportsmen and ladies were entertained by Miss Achsah Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Anderson at their farm in the suburbs of the village Monday: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barlow and Summer Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Freas, Edward Hancock, Walter Holt, William Lear, William Elkins, El-Hott Moody and George Scott of Trenton, Clarence Anderson, Edward Hunter and Edward F. Church of Riverside. The party bagged 14 rabbits, 4 squirrels and 2 woodcock. Mrs. Anderson also donned her hunting costume and joined the party. She bagged two rabbits and a squirrel. Mrs. Anderson enjoys the sport and was presented with a new gunning outfit by Mr. Anderson at the beginning of the hunting season. A dinner was served when the party returned.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Anderson of this place were hunting guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Taylor of Allentown. They were joined by William, John, Joseph and John Thropp Jr., Captain Detmar and Adam Exton and Miss Emma Exton of Trenton.

At this party Mrs. Elmer Anderson and Miss Emma Exton both joined the hunters and succeeded in bagging a good share of game.

William Cudberley, Albert Cudberley, Charles Cudberley and John Conover bagged twenty rabbits and two woodcock at Dutch Neck Monday.

Lambertville, Nov. 16.—The following bags of game have been reported the past two days:

William Hicks, 15 rabbits; Jacob Bright, 4 rabbits; Johnson Warford, 1 rabbit; Julius B., Colton, 4 rabbits; Patrick A. Crane, 14 rabbits; George Mitchell, 3 rabbits; William McGowan, 6 rabbits; John Reid, 3 rabbits, 2 woodcock; George Agin, 11 rabbits, 3 squirrels; Samuel Akers, 1 rabbit. Newton Ash of Camden, 22 rabbits, 9 squirrels.

Harry Ash of Camden, 27 rabbits, 3 squirrels.

Charles Brown of Camden, 13 rabbits.

Fred Wright, who was gunning at Rock Itidge, above Raven Rock, known as Gervas Ely's thicket, shot four rabbits on Wednesday. While roaming around after the cottontails he came across a half-grown deer. Mr. Wright said it was one of the prettiest animals he ever saw.

Michael Kiggins on Tuesday killed 4 rabbits.

John Lane secured five rabbits on Monday.

Since the gunning season opened David Holcombe, of this city, has killed and disposed of to Trenton parties $48 worth of woodcock.

John Colton, Jr., secured 4 rabbits on Wednesday.

Newton S. Bayard succeeded in bagging five rabbits on Thursday.

Lewis Smith, since Monday, has killed eleven rabbits.

John Collihan has brought home, since Monday, eighteen rabbits.